STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1906.

NO. 48.

REMEMBER SEPT. THE 12th.

And Read the Following Eye-Openers!

We have collected these Testimonials from various sources for the benefit of those who fear the effect of Local Option on the business of Stanford. It will be seen that the effect is in reality what might be expected--that it turns money into the substantial channels of trade, and builds up a town in every respect. These words come from sane, hard-working, business men, and could be duplicated in practically every town in the country that has given Local Option a fair trial. A vote for Local Option means a vote for good Business as well as good Morals.

THE COMMITTEE.

THE FOLLOWING IS QUOTED FROM THE JESSAMINE NEWS:

"That local option is not successful," "that a dry town is a dead town" and "that every town needs the revenue from saloons" are the hackneyed and stereotyped claims of those many erring persons who oppose local option. Our neighboring city of Lancaster is the same class town, has about the same population and taxable property as Stanford, and in order that no one may be deceived by these false claims of the saloon we submit to the people of this county a statement from the business men of Lancaster. "To whom it may concern: Local option is in operation in the city of Lancaster, Ky., and has been continuously for the last 20 years. Its effect has been wholesome. This community has prospered under it. Our people favor it heartily. If the question of whether we should do away with local option should be submitted to a vote of the people, local option would carry by a large majority. The sentiment in this community for local option is stronger to-day than ever before. The law is being enforced and the results are excellent. You may have heard it said that local option is disastrous to the financial interests of sections where it is enforced. It has not been so here and we do not believe it will be so anywhere. Our business men are strongly in favor of local option. We commend local option to all of the friends of intelligence, progressive, christian citizenship every where. W. I. Williams, attorney at law; J. C. Robinson, merchant; J. B. Collier, merchant; Haselden Bros., hardware merchants; The Joseph Mercantile Co.; S. C. Denny, cashier National Bank; R. E. McRoberts druggist; H. M. Ballou, grocer; Mount & Elkin, hardware; B. F. Hudson, cashier Citizens National Bank; A. H. Bastin, president Bastin Telephone Co.; Drs. Burnett & Amon; Curry & Herndon, grocers; R. L. Davidson, city attorney; J. E. Robinson, county attorney." Lancaster, Ky., Aug. 18, 1906. We hope the friends of our cause will read this to every citizen who seeks the truth. COMMITTEE.

Worth Much.

Campbellsville, Ky., July 6, 1906. Ed. Sun: I wish to say that I have been in business in Campbellsville for 26 years, and there never has anything been worth more to us as a city than voting out the saloons. Morally, socially, religiously, and in a business way, and I do not think the time will ever come that our people will want saloons.

E. M. Coakly,
of the firm of Coakly & Dashen.

Property Doubled in Value.

Campbellsville, Ky., July 6, 1906. Ed. Sun: I have been asked my opinion as to the business of Campbellsville and Taylor county as it is now and when we had open saloons. I will say that property has doubled in value and every man can find work, all he can do, at a good price. Would not have them back again. C. F. Mantz, Prop. Farmers Roller Mills.

From our observations as citizens and our experience as officials we believe that local option contributes largely to the well-being of a community, helps to lessen crime, to lower taxation and to create a healthier, moral sentiment.

We think the day is very far distant when Danville or Boyle county will ever seriously even contemplate licensing saloons again.

W. A. Prewitt, county judge; Wm. J. Price, county attorney; Henry Jackson, city attorney; S. P. McDowell, sheriff; G. T. Helm, chief of police; W. S.

Fitzgerald, jailer; C. R. McDowell, city judge.

Dear Sir:—In reply to your inquiry as to the effect of saloon license or prohibition on the business of Danville, am free to say that the licensing of saloons would not in our belief receive serious consideration from the business people. Danville has constantly improved and is growing substantially now, with sober, industrious population, many of whom are attached to the place on account of the absence of saloons.

J. C. Caldwell, president; D. N. Lee, cashier; G. W. Welsh, cashier, Farmers' National Bank.

Effects of Local Option.

Since the local option law has been enforced, (mind you, not since it was voted in) Lancaster has been the most orderly city in this section of the state. The saloons were voted out long ago, but the tiger people seemed determined to sell, and it was not until recently that they were completely stamped out. This goes to show that the prohibition law, properly enforced, is the best in every community. Another striking feature is the fact that there has been more transfers of property, more sales and at better prices than ever before. To-day it is almost impossible to buy a house, while those for rent are at a premium. This state of affairs can be attributable to nothing else but the enforcement of the law, and the good behavior in the city. For a time, the laws were not enforced, and many citizens were in favor of high license rather than illegal sale of liquor, but now that Chief of Police Jas. A. Beazley, and his able deputy, Luther Herron, have proven to the people that the law can be respected and enforced, we know few men who would vote for high license. The Record gives this bit of news for the benefit of those neighboring towns who are about to vote on the question, and to show them that "Prohibition CAN Prohibit."—Lancaster Record.

three groceries in this place when whisky was sold here, and not that many all the time; now there are ten good substantial groceries here. This material difference is not the result of an increase in population, but grows out of the fact that the men are sober and the grocery bills are paid first, whereas it used to be that the liquor bill came first, and the grocery man had to wait. Whisky will never be sold here again. There are a thousand reasons why the people do not want it.

N. Hobson, Groceries.

All citizens of the towns of Hustonville, Stanford, Rowland & Crab Orchard who are not already registered are urged to do so on Registration Day, Sep 5th-next Wednesday.

Resolutions Passed by Tri-County Teachers' Institute.

We the teachers Boyle, Lincoln and Garrard counties in institute assembled resolved

1st That we extend our hearty thanks to the people of Stanford for the hospitable manner in which they received us into their homes and for the many courtesies shown us while here.

2nd That the thanks of the institute are due the people of the Christian church for the use of their building and those who have kindly furnished the music.

3rd That we express our regret that owing to the illness of his son, Supt. Singleton was not able to be with us throughout the institute.

4th That our hearty thanks be tendered Hon. J. M. Alverson for his untiring efforts in behalf of education in the General Assembly of Kentucky which resulted in the passage of the law giving pay to teachers while attending institute.

5th That we fully indorse the phonic method of spelling and make persistent effort to use it in our schools, also the many practical ideas given by our instructors, Dr. Roark and Mrs. Olcott.

6th That this institute favors a uniform system of schools for Kentucky, such as is outlined in the August number of the Southern School Journal.

7th That we ask our representative in Congress to use every effort to secure such legislation as will give to Kentucky schools a sum of money equivalent to the average value of land grants given to newer States.

8th That we express our high appreciation of the work done by the late Hon. R. W. Miller, of Richmond, for the State Normal Schools, and further that we favor the placing of a tablet to his memory in each of the schools established mainly through his efforts.

9th That we express our appreciation of the efforts of the Kentucky Educational Improvement Commission in behalf of better education in Kentucky.

10 That we heartily endorse the Tri-County Institute as giving us the advantage of better instruction, a greater acquaintance with our fellow teachers and a broader, heartfelt interest in the great common cause of education.

11 That the institute for 1907 be held in Lancaster at a date not later than Sept. 15.

12 That it is the wish of the institute that the teachers at the joint session be divided into two divisions—the first to include all teachers who have not attended more than one session and the second to include those who have attended two or more sessions, and that the work be arranged to suit those divisions.

13 That this institute select a committee of six teachers, two from each county represented, who shall name not more than six institute instructors of high grade, from which the county superintendents are to select the instructors for the coming year.

C. O. Pratt, chm'n.; Eliza C. Smith, Mary Knapp West, Stella McClary, Derah Moore, Wm. Coldiron, S. D. Campbell, M. Mullins. C. H. Cox, secretary.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Henry Corley was badly mangled by the machinery of Anderson & Spillman's mill at Danville.

In Madison, Crutcher Sopher was probably fatally stabbed by Thomas Brown. The men were drinking.

Robert Heath, with Gentry Bros., dog show, slept on the railroad track at Richmond with the usual results.

James Likings was pushed from a bridge near Richmond by Negroes and instantly killed. Officers are hunting the guilty parties.

To prevent mob violence the Sheriff of Wayne county took Perry Copenhaver, colored, to Somerset. Copenhaver is charged with attempting to assault Miss Fairchild.

Berea is to have a new bank—The First National Bank—with a capital stock of $25,000. The organizers are J. W. Porter, Berea; J. J. Moore, J. W. Herndon, E. T. Fish and J. Burdett. John E. Trowler, mail carrier from Harrodsburg to Mitchellsburg, was killed by L. & N. train No. 23 at Mitchellsburg Wednesday. Crossing the track behind a special which stood on a siding, he failed to see the approach of the regular train, which struck him, killing him almost instantly.

Gov. Luke P. Blackburn, whose reputation as a physician and philanthropist is too well known to need further comment, once said "Concentrated Crab Orchard Water is the best aperient known to the medical profession and will cure more diseases than any one remedy I have ever used." Get a bottle of White's Diamond Brand Crab Orchard Water. For sale by all druggists and country stores.

Circuit Judge Fowler, of Fond du Lac, Wis., awarded Otto B. Schulz, a prominent baker, $6,000 damages in a suit against some 80 members of the Trades and Labor Council for boycotting his business and placing his name on the unfair list two years ago because he refused to put the union label on his products.

A light frost fell at Reading, Kansas, Tuesday.

IN MEMORIAM.

It was very forcibly demonstrated that death loves a shining mark when it claimed the spirit of Harvey Sloan at the home of his father, Mr. A. P. Sloan, near Hubble, Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock. A gentle, kind, humble and obedient youth of 16 years, just budding into manhood and beginning to know what life really is. Death is sad enough at all times, but more so when so bright and intelligent a boy as Harvey was, with such flattering promises as seemed in store for him.

Appendicitis was the cause of his death. When it was made known that surgery would avail nothing, he accepted the decision, called for his pastor, Bro. Tinder, and made preparations to meet his God he so dutifully worshipped. All that loving hands of father, mother, brothers, sisters, grand-father and friends could do to make him forget his pain was done, and every effort was met with a kindly word. But nothing could ward off the grim monster.

"For whether in mid sea or among the breakers of a farther shore, a wreck at last must mark the end of each and all, and every life, no matter if its every hair is rich with love, and every moment jeweled with a joy, will at its close become a tragedy as sad and deep and dark as can be woven of the warp and woof of mystery and death. Life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities. We strive in vain to look beyond the heights, we cry aloud and the only answer to our wailing cry is an echo. From the voiceless lips of unrepenting dead there comes no word; but in the night of death, hope sees a star and love's listening ear can hear the rustle of a wing."

To us it appears as a mysterious Providence that he should be taken so young, but the consolation we offer the stricken parents, grand father, brothers and sister is the unfaltering belief that God doeth all things for the best. The funeral was held at Hubble church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the remains were laid to rest in beautiful Buffalo cemetery at Stanford, M.

Stomach Troubles and Constipation.

No one can reasonably hope for good digestion when the bowels are constipated. Mr. Chas. Baldwin, of Edwardsville, Ill., says: "I suffered from chronic constipation and stomach troubles for several years, but, thanks to Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, am almost cured." Why not get a package of these tablets and get well and stay well? Price 25 cents. Samples free. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

HUBBLE.

John Blanks sold a two-year-old colt colt to Walter Moss for $100.

Wm. Settles, of London, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Adam Kelly.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church continues with excellent sermons and enormous crowds.

Mrs. Sita Spoonamore, of Franklin, Ind., is with the family of J. M. Spoonamore. Miss Annie Dunn, of Bryantsville, is the guest of Mrs. Jake White. James Floyd and wife, of Turnersville, were guests of Mr. J. A. Hammond. Miss Jessie McKechnie is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bohon, of Monticello, have been with the family of A. P. Sloan. Mrs. Sue Jones and son, James, of Monticello, are with friends here. Mrs. C. C. Sink, of Lexington, is with her mother, Mrs. A. C. Carman. Mr. Will Kendrick and wife, of Monticello, and Mr. Fount Stigall, of Somerset, attended the burial of Harvey Sloan.

Last Friday evening the death angel came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sloan and took away their bright little son, Harvey. That dread disease, appendicitis, seized him and was only a few days in doing its worst. He was a member of the Christian church and was fully prepared for his reward. He was gentle and attractive in his manner and was loved by all who knew him. The funeral was preached at the Christian church here by Rev. F. M. Tinder, assisted by Rev. George Gowan, and a large concourse of friends followed the remains to Buffalo cemetery. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the broken home circle in which this dear boy was such a joy and inspiration.

Unnecessary Expense.

Acute attacks of colic and diarrhoea come on without warning and prompt relief must be obtained. There is no necessity of incurring the expense of a physician's service in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is at hand. A dose of this remedy will relieve the patient before a doctor could arrive. It has never been known to fail, even in the most severe and dangerous cases and no family should be without it. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

Kentucky Fair Dates.

The following are the dates fixed for the Kentucky Fairs for 1906, as far as reported:

Somerset, Sept. 4—4 days.
Elizabethtown, Sept. 4—3 days.
Paris, Sept. 4—5 days.
Monticello, Sept. 11—4 days.
